

Mud, water and rain tests skill of 1985 Corduroy Enduro riders

The 1985 Corduroy Enduro was by no means a washout, but the heavy rainfall in the week prior to the two day event created conditions that forced many riders out of the running on Saturday and prompted the organizers to shorten the course on Sunday.

Nearly two hundred riders from Ontario, Quebec and the United States took part in the thirty-second annual enduro, sponsored by the British Empire Motor Club and for the first time in years there was a strong local contingent.

Ted Wilkins and Bob Marsh of Kinmount, Steve Brand of Gelert, Murray Beetlestone and Paul Prentice of Minden and a former resident of Haliburton County Dave "Winky" Dodd were among the 193 starters on Saturday.

While this was the first Corduroy Enduro entered by Murray Beetlestone, he has competed in numerous enduros and motocross events over the past two years.

In the six events he entered this summer, Murray has placed in the top three positions in his class in four of the races. Before the start of the Corduroy, Murray predicted half the riders would drop out or be forced out after the first day because of high water levels at the river crossings and in the marshes the trails cross.

He emphasised the importance of preparation before the start of the event to ensure the bikes can withstand the punishment. "I have to spend alot more time preparing my bike than actually riding," he said, noting riders have little time to carry out repairs once the enduro has begun.

After the completion of Saturday's run the motorcycles are kept in a lockup over night at Chateau Woodland, and drivers are prevented from making any repairs or adjustments to their machines until 15 minutes before they set out on Sunday.

Driving a Can Am 400, Murray was one of five Rockcliffe Tavern teams taking part in the enduro. His teammates were John Martin, a Can Am factory rider from Duluth, Minnesota and Paul Prentice of Minden.

Paul had competed in the Corduroy from 1971 to 1973 and had placed second in his class in the final year, but noting he had only been on two trail rides this summer, Paul said, "I am only going along for the ride," in this year's competition. "The first day of the Corduroy is really hard on you, if you aren't in shape, and this year

Little change in school enrollment

According to unofficial figures released by secondary and elementary schools in Haliburton County there has been no significant change in student enrollment from last school year.

After reaching a peak of 2254 students in 1976, enrollment declined steadily for six years then began to show a slight increase in 1983 and again in 1984.

According to official figures released on September 30, 1984, 1825 students were attending school in Haliburton County. Official attendance was listed as 1770 students but this included 132 students in kindergarten who attend on a half day basis and are assigned half values for the purposes of funding by the Ministry of Education.

An informal survey conducted by The Times shows 1823 students attending school in this county at the end of the first week of classes and considering the slight jump in attendance during September 1984, this figure could increase above last year's total.

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School has the largest enrollment, 612 students have registered for classes, an increase of 8 over last year.

The J. Douglas Hodgson Elementary School also shows an increase in attendance from 424 to 435,

(including the students at the Chimo facility near Irondale.)

There are 438 students attending Archie Stouffer Elementary School in Minden, a slight decrease from last year. This decrease is due in part to the reduction in the number of students attending kindergarten.

Last year, the two kindergarten classes were made up of 60 students, but this year attendance has declined to 40 students.

While the number of students attending kindergarten at the Cardiff Elementary School has increased by 5, the total attendance is down from 105 to 88.

Dorset Elementary also shows a slight drop from 22 to 19.

Gooderham Elementary has a total enrollment of 26 students, down slightly from last year.

Wilberforce Elementary has 54 students enrolled, two less than last year.

Victoria Street Elementary school in the village of Haliburton showed an increase in enrollment, jumping from 138 students to 151 including 52 students in kindergarten.

118 teachers, both full time and part time, are responsible for the education of the more than 1800 students attending classes in Haliburton

Participants in the 1985 edition of the Corduroy Enduro found the going a little wetter than usual Saturday due to recent heavy rains in the Highlands. Tragic accident claims life

A Ministry of Transportation and Communications employee is dead following an accident September 6.

Dead is 60 year old Alan Douglas Brown of Kinmount.

According to the report filed by the police, Brown was involved in a culvert clearing operation with another MTC employee. The recent heavy rains had lead to problems with the culverts.

While working in the Irondale area on a particular culvert, Brown's partner, Robert Swanton, walked upstream to investigate the extent of the water back-up. He returned a short while later to discover Brown was not at the culvert.

A search of the area located the man's body approximately 200 feet downstream on the other side of the highway.

Police speculate that Brown had fallen into the swiftly flowing water and was dragged through the four foot culvert and drowned. They note that the deceased was a good swimmer, but was wearing heavy rubber boots at the time which would have created further problems once the man fell into the water.

The incident was investigated by Constable Bill Clendenning. Coroner Dr. Dean Stokes attended at the scene.

Near drowning

A 28 year old man from Niagara Falls narrowly escaped death Saturday afternoon when he became caught against the stop logs at the Buckslide dam in Stanhope Township.

According to the police, the man, Martin Davis, was swimming in the water immediately above the dam when the current forced him against the stop logs. Davis was unable to free himself from the position and could have drowned if others at the scene had not been able to throw him the safety ring and pull him out.

The man was taken to Minden hospital, examined and released.

Police concerned about break-ins

A spokesman for the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police has issued a plea to participants in the Neighbourhood Watch programs throughout the county, to be especially vigilant following a number of recent break-ins in various parts of the county. In particular, Constable Gary Chapman has asked participants to report suspicious activity observed near commercial establishments as many of the break-ins have occurred in area businesses.

He has also suggested that merchants take special care in ensuring that only a minimal amount of cash is left on the business property overnight. "Business owners would be advised to make more use of the daily bank deposits and to keep cash amounts as low as possible," Chapman advised.

The OPP spokesman also noted that drug stores in other parts of the Peterborough District have been hit by thieves recently, with large amounts of merchandise being stolen.

The need for extra caution and attention is emphasised in this week's police report in which at least seven break-ins were reported, touching all corners of the county.

Harcourt break-in

According to the police, the Community Centre in Harcourt was the target of vandals who broke in sometime during the Labour Day weekend. The intruders ransacked the interior, yanking down speakers, overturning tables and spraying beer throughout the premises. The extent of the damage was limited, police say.

Wilberforce Legion

Another public building, the Wilberforce Legion, was broken into sometime during the night of September 7 - 8. The building, which has been the target of thieves in the past, was entered by prying open a rear window.

Removed from the premises were a quantity of Wintario tickets, Nevada tickets and cartons of cigarettes. Police were unable to provide an estimate of the value of the stolen merchandise.

Members of the OPP identification branch, based in Peterborough, were called to the scene to investigate the incident.

The local investigating officer is Constable Brian Dunham.

County. This includes the two teachers in both the Dorset Elementary School and the Gooderham Elementary School as well as the 40 teachers at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School.

Snowdon break-ins

The investigation into a series of break-ins in Snowdon Township is continuing with police believing that whoever was responsible is still in the area.

According to the reports receive, a group of mushroom pickers approached a group of cabins on the north side of Highway 503 in Snowdon Township last Sunday. The property was marked for sale, and the pickers were interested in enquiring about the details.

However, when they knocked on the door of one cabin, they noticed a light being turned out and the sound of furniture being pushed against the door. Reporting the incident to the police, the authorities discovered the cabin, and several other buildings in the area, had been broken into. It appeared from evidence that the buildings had been recently vacated, since the tea pot was still warm when the police arrived.

Since there was no vehicles seen in the area, it is believed whoever was inside the buildings had fled on foot. It appeared that at least one male and one female were living in the cabin. Police also believe that rifles and ammunition were taken from the cabin.

The police have requested the assistance of area residents in reporting any suspicious activity to the Minden detachment of the OPP.

Lutterworth garage

The municipal garage in Lutterworth Township was broken into during the weekend. The garage, located behind the municipal office on Highway 35, was entered after a window was pruned open.

Taken in the break-in were oxy-acetylene torches and two tanks of oxygen and acetylene.

The matter is under investigation by Constable Dave MacMartin.

Police have also speculated that the stolen torches could be used to assist intruders in breaking into buildings or safes in the future.

Carnarvon break-in

While the safe at the Home 'N' Hearth store in Carnarvon was tampered with during the weekend, metal cutting torches, such as those stolen in Lutterworth, were not used in the incident.

The thieves broke in sometime Saturday evening and attempted to open the store's safe. The effort proved unsuccessful.

What, if anything was taken from the store, is unknown.

Constable Mike Maher, assisted by the identification team from Peterborough is investigating the incident.

Kennis Lake break-ins

Two cottages in the Kennis Lake area were reported broken into last week. Police believe that these cottages were entered at the same time as four other cottages, reported last week. The buildings had not been occupied since August 24 and were located beside each other.

Reported missing in these latest break-ins was a video camera valued at $3,000 plus a number of other items with a $1000 value.

Constable Wim Magee is the investigating officer.

Charge laid

A charge of break and enter has been laid against a Haliburton man following an incident August 29 in Stanhope Township.

Charged September 5 with the incident was 18 year old Arthur Upton.

The investigating office is Constable Al Bibby.

Ward system on ballot

When voters in the municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden go to the polls this November, they will not only be able to decide on the candidate of their choice for the municipal council and the county board of education, they will also be asked if they support the establishment of a ward system.

Council approved the inclusion of the question on the ballot at the January 24 meeting of council and at the meeting on August 29, approved the wording of the question based on guidelines provided by the Ministry of Municipal Affairs and Housing.

Currently members of council represent all ratepayers in the three townships.

Under the ward system, the reeve and deputy reeve would represent the entire municipality and the councillors would be elected by and would represent ratepayers in one of the three wards.

Each ward will have an equal number of voters as determined by the enumeration preceding the municipal election on November 12.

If a majority of voters approve the establishment of the ward system, it will take effect during the municipal election in 1988.

The municipal government has been experimenting with a form of ward system since January. Members of the Roads Committee have been responsible for one of four regions in the municipality. The boundaries of the separate "wards" were based on the town limits of the Village of Minden and the two major highways.

The only municipality in the county using the ward system now is Dysart et al.

Vigilance

The value and need for organizations such as Neighbourhood Watch became starkly obvious this week when one scanned the report prepared by the Minden detachment of the Ontario Provincial Police. This week's accounting of the past seven days of activity includes an extraordinary number of break-ins. The incidents have been reported from all corners of the county and appear to involve all levels of criminals from the mindless vandal to the serious break and enter felon.

While the number of incidents is exceptionally high this week, there is little doubt this sort of crime has been increasing over the years. That is why organizations such as Neighbourhood Watch serve a valued function in our communities.

Police try to anticipate the intention of potential criminals, attempting to deter crime by maintaining a high profile. However, the authorities cannot be everywhere at all times, especially when the patrol area spans the length and breadth of the county.

By participating in a Neighbourhood Watch program, individuals help to extend the reach of the police, when their physical presence is not possible. Those who are part of the program now should remain vigilant. Those who do not belong, should find out now, from the OPP, how they can help protect the property of the members of their community, including their own.

Speak out

In addition to providing information about the community we serve, an important duty of this newspaper is to comment on issues of the day. We invite our readers to speak out as well, on matters they feel need airing.

Letters to the editor attract high readership, offer differing points of view on issues of importance and offer the opportunity for a free exchange of ideas, a vital part of a democratic society. This newspaper will always respect the right of citizens to be heard, within limits dedicated by legal restrictions and good taste. We ask that writers be willing to allow their names to appear with their letters.

Missed meeting

Editor:

Your August 28 edition of The Times carrying notice of the Anson, Hindon and Minden Township public meeting on a comprehensive zoning bylaw reached us at home in Toronto on September 3. This is about average delivery by Canada Post. It is surely not your fault. But the meeting was held on Saturday, August 31st.

Since the poor mail service is notorious, two days notice of an event as important as this is for the future of the township is hardly good management. Neither is it fair or just. It effectively deprives many people an opportunity to comment.

This event should be held again with adequate public notice being given. A full week's notice, or two weeks notice, is not asking too much I believe.

As your editorial justly points out in the same edition in talking about this matter, this was, "...the first and most important opportunity for input from the public. While there will be other chances to comment, as each stage passes, the form of the bylaw takes on increasing rigidity."

Last minute notice like this can be a way of keeping a lot of light off a bad piece of legislation.

Joe Curtin,
Ingoldsby and Toronto.

Task force reports

- by Bill Scott, MP -

The results of the Ministerial Task Force on Program Review's consideration of the Canada Assistance Plan were announced by Jake Epp and Erik Nielsen on August 29. These review results should help to focus discussion on solutions to the high costs of welfare at a national conference this fall.

The Canada Assistance Plan is the name of the federal law, enacted in 1966, which authorizes the Government of Canada to reimburse provincial governments for up to 50 per cent of approved social assistance expenditures. Authorized expenditures under the CAP can include a broad range of social services, such as child welfare and day care, in addition to payments to individuals or families for food, shelter and clothing.

In 1967 - 69, the annual federal cost was $343 million. It was over $4 billion by 1984 - 85 and, if the historical growth in the proportion of employable Canadians who receive social assistance continues, federal CAP payments would reach $8.5 billion a year by 1989-90.

About 2 million Canadians were receiving income assistance under CAP at March 31, 1984; another 500,000 were receiving social services paid for under the plan.

In the course of this review the study team found no support for any major alternative to the CAP despite the cost escalation. As well, they found no evidence of a significant amount of illegal or unwarranted payment to individuals as Provincial administration of needs tests assure that recipients are in fact needy.

Federation of Ontario Naturalists

As dusk approaches, the troubadour advances to the mouth of his neatly arranged cave. Bow and fiddle held high (above his back), he commences his serenade. Treck ... Treck, Treck... Treckeeek. A few tuning strokes and the love song is underway. Soon - joined by hundreds, then thousands - the rousing chorus fills the night air. Her ladyship, target of the amour, strains her ears. (They're on her front elbows, of course.) Best singer chosen, she follows down the soundtrack, keeping herself 'on track' by keeping her ears (and elbows) pointed toward her would-be mate.

Crickets, in full song over the next few weeks, are taken for granted by most of us. But to those who'll take a close look, they are a remarkable group of insects.

So successful are crickets' adaptations that they very nearly blanket the globe's land areas, excepting only the polar regions. Nearly 1500 different species have developed, each finely attuned to a different combination of terrain, weather and food. The result is that each region has huge numbers of just 2 or 3 different crickets.

The two common crickets in our region are often mistaken as adults and young of the same animal. In reality, the large black field cricket and small brown ground cricket are different species, which share a similar life history, but different song - it's the field cricket which is the loud, familiar songster.

The singing which we hear now, a critical phase in crickets' life cycle, is made only by the males. Now moulting into adulthood in droves, they're equipped with large wings, which they don't use for flight, but rather for song. Each wing is equipped with several key parts. A hard 'bony' scraper is located near the base of the wing's trailing edge. A long curved ridge, equipped with many cross ridges, resembling a file, curves across the wing. By precisely rubbing its wings together, the cricket drags the scrape across the file, somewhat like a fingernail dragged across a comb. The sound is then amplified by a tightly stretched area of the wing's membrane which acts like a drum skin.

The resulting serenade is essential - not only in announcing the availability to would-be mates. It also allows females to select the loudest (and doubtless healthiest and strongest) males using white-dot ears on the elbows of their front legs.

Each female will soon be laying dozens of eggs. Singly

Lots of love

Editor:

Thank you for the article concerning Hyland Crest Home by Mr. Sidney Brown in the August 28 publication of The Times. Mr. Brown described the Home facilities and activities very well.

As a relative of a resident of the Home I would like to suggest there were three areas missing in the article. Those were love, care and concern. I am a regular visitor to the Home and rejoice at the love and care shown to the residents by all the staff. Relatives and friends are always welcomed warmly and I have noticed especially the extra care and attention given to relatives and residents when a resident becomes ill.

May I use your newspaper to publicly thank Mr. Brown, the auxiliary, the staff and the Board of Management for the love and care which truly makes Hyland Crest a "Home".

Fire protection

Editor:

This letter is in response to two items published in the Wednesday, September 4, 1985 issue of The Times. We are pleased that community concerns are shared with a wider audience and reported fairly and accurately in your paper. However, there are a few points raised in these items which require clarification as follows:

"Island residents want fire boat purchased" - Article, page 1:

1. "Island residents ... The point should be stressed (as noted briefly in your article) that, while we on Gull Lake are spearheading this request, that we are speaking for and have the support of islanders and mainland water-access property owners both in Lutterworth and the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden.

2. The term 'fire boat' is a misnomer in the sense that the equipment (boat, motor, trailer) is intended for more than just fire suppression on water-access properties. Emergency service equipment is a more appropriate term because this reflects the wider scope of use as noted in point 5.

3. Quoting Fire Chief Jackson. Jackson said...

that Lutterworth Council turned down a request by the association (Gull Lake Cottagers' Association) to purchase a boat." This is a misunderstanding of what actually happened. At the Lutterworth Council meeting on October 29, 1984 our Association presented a submission on behalf of property owners in our area and other areas served by the Minden Fire Department to petition the Corporation of the Townships of Anson, Hindon and Minden to purchase equipment for the Minden Fire Department to suppress structural fires in areas only accessible by water. Lutterworth Council did not turn down the request but indicated strong support as noted in a quotation from the minutes of the October 30, 1984 meeting. "Members of Council noted that this township would offer to pay its fair share of the cost of the acquisition of the required equipment by the Minden Fire Department."

4. Fire Chief Jackson "questioned the necessity of purchasing the boat which may see little use and which would occupy needed space in the fire hall." In response to this we suggest the following:

- it is both professionally and morally unacceptable for a fire department to use frequency (or infrequency) of use, difficulty of site access or storage problems as adequate reasons to deny reasonable funds for the acquisition of equipment necessary to deliver emergency protection services to anyone for whom they have accepted that responsibility.

- a cost of $3,000 to $4,000 is not a disproportionate amount to spend for this equipment when compared to the approximately $100,000 invested in current equipment (pumper, tanker, truck, etc.) Only the truck and portable pump equipment can be used for fighting fires on water-access properties and they are useless unless there is a boat or boats to transport the equipment. In addition the fire department should not be dependent solely on other sources of boat transport (owner, neighbour, etc.) because there is no assurance that they will be available, especially in the spring and fall. At least one boat should be available for emergency purposes at all times.

5. In support of his motion to approach the provincial government re the possibility of funding, Councillor Gary Kenney reasoned that the current government initiative to involve fire departments in rescue operations would considerably increase the need for emergency equipment to provide transportation by water.

6. "...must do more than just approach councils with a costly request". We do not view this as a costly request. It is a modest request as compared to the total amount already expended on firefighting equipment as noted in point 4. This expenditure will ensure that water-access property owners will have at least minimal fire protection which is currently being denied them because of lack of dependable transportation.

7. The acceptance of "the potential risk the isolation creates" (paragraph 3) and "the reality that one is that much further removed from the services those on the mainland take for granted" is faced as a fact of life by people who choose to live on water-access properties.

What we find hard to accept is the number of verbal road blocks placed in our way when we try to lessen that risk by asking for an improvement that would bring us closer to those "services which mainlanders take for granted".

8. In paragraph 4 you suggest that if we were sincere we would do more than petition and make a substantial monetary contribution. If you are making the point that "money sweetens the pot" you are absolutely right. However, the unspoken implication here is that we are asking for something "extra", something special, something above and beyond the normal expectation of a taxpayer in the community. We do not consider our request as "special". It is a request for something that is essentially basic - minimal and dependable means of transportation for an emergency service to a site.

We therefore do not feel that we should be expected to "kick in" extra money to ensure that we receive an essential service. The taxpayers in Anson, Hindon and Minden are already paying for fire protection and other essential emergency services through their township taxes. In Lutterworth we are also paying for those services through taxes with Lutterworth Township purchasing fire protection separately through a yearly stand-by fee to the Minden Council, plus an hourly rate for each fire incident. Why should we pay an extra tax as you suggest? It is in reality a direct tax levy in the guise of a voluntary contribution. Taxpayers have had their general taxes increased because of expenditures for emergency equipment but to my knowledge a segment of those taxpayers have not been asked for a special tax levy above and beyond their regular taxes.

We have already made a contribution through the Gull Lake Cottagers' Association. We have produced (with the extensive assistance of the Lutterworth Township office staff and Council support) an Emergency Services Map and Property Owners Registry for our area. When concluded this project will have a value of between $2500 - $3000 in direct costs to the Association including preparation, expenses, reproduction and distribution plus the value of approximately 200 hours of volunteer labour.

Lutterworth Council consider this to be an integral and important segment of the Joint Emergency Planning Program (JEPP) which is being prepared cooperatively by both the Lutterworth and Minden Councils. We trust that this indicates our sincere desire and willingness to contribute our share toward the betterment of emergency services in our larger community.

Tom Douglas,
Director, Emergency Services Co-ordinator,
Gull Lake Cottagers' Assoc.

A case of classics

Editor:

When is a Classic not a Classic?

There has been an upsurge in recent years of shows, rallies, and gatherings of old automobiles. Newspapers have been extremely cooperative in announcing and describing these events. In doing such, one term, however, and much to the abhorrence of true old car enthusiasts, is very much misused. That is the term "classic", and some clarification is in order.

All old cars are not "classics" regardless of the excellence with which they may have been restored. There are very few true classics. A car to be such has to be specified by the Classic Car Club of America as a Classic.

Classic automobiles are cars of special distinction manufactured from 1930 to 1942 with the exception of the Lincoln Continental which includes up to 1948.

American made classics include only: Auburn 8 and V12; Buick Limited series 90 - 1931 - 42; all Cadillacs; Chrysler Lebaron and Imperials; all Cords; all Duesenbergs; all Franklins; all LaSalles; all Lincolns (except Zephyr); Marmon V16; all Packards (except 110 and 120 models); all Pierce Arrows; and all Rolls Royces (many were made in the U.S.).

In addition the list comprises several foreign cars, eg. Alfa-Romeo, Bentley, etc.

The correct and only term that should be used to describe a gathering of old cars is "Historical". All cars 25 years or older are Historical cars or vehicles, regardless of their condition. These cars are for judging and other purposes divided as follows:

Brass Era - brass trimmed cars up to 1916 approximately.

Antique Cars - up to 1929. Early special interest - 1930 to 1942.

Classics - 1930 to 1942 as approved by ACCCA.

Prestige vehicles - 1946 - 1960 as approved by ACCCA.

Late special interest - 1946 - 1960.

Milestone Cars - post war cars approved by The Milestone Society of America.

Cars less than 25 years of age have no official standing at shows, but are accepted and admired.

Cars 25 years or older may obtain a Historical Licence and Insurance if not used as regular transportation.

from the chamber

Thanks to a fine effort this summer from an enthusiastic and knowledgeable staff, Lorna Hicks, Dawn Elliott, Christine Neave, Michelle Allore, Michelle Parish and Kim Mumford, enquiries were answered, directions given, maps were sold and everyone was welcomed to our county. You can be proud of your Chamber of Commerce as it met the tourists' needs and held to make their visit to the Highlands, a happy one.

Highlights of the summer began with the tremendously successful Ride for Sight and finished with the equally successful Canadian Kayak Championships. Many, many more events and activities were brought to us and promoted by the Chamber during the season.

With our fall promotion plan already being implemented (we were at the Eaton Centre last week) we expect to have a busy winter as well. October will see us representing Haliburton County at the Annual Ski Show and later in the month at the Singles show. This new show is dedicated to capturing the affluent, mobile sector of society as it seeks experience and travel. We will try to lure them to the Highlands of Haliburton.

We will be telling the story of the cross-country trails and accommodations and downhill facilities and for snowmobile enthusiasts, we will also provide information on trails etc.

Opening

The official opening of our new building on September 18, 1985, by County officials and the Chamber Board of Directors will be a prelude to a very interesting season. We look forward to countywide participation as we plan for our annual meeting in October. Any community minded person can become a chamber member.

Think about it

- You don't buy a newspaper, you buy news.
- You don't buy life insurance, you buy security for others.
- You don't buy glasses, you buy vision.
- You don't buy awnings, you buy shade.
- You don't buy membership in the Chamber of Commerce, you buy cooperation of the ablest men and women in the community with whom you can join hands to do the kind of things you cannot do alone.

they will be inserted into the ground using her characteristic 'ovipositor' - that 1/2" long 'tail pipe' which she carries behind her.

While a few adults may overwinter in sheltered locales, most die with hard frost. But the eggs, specially adapted, will survive, to hatch about late April or early May, as the ground begins to warm.

The young will emerge not as caterpillars, like most familiar insects, but as nymphs - miniature versions of the adult, but with important differences.

The nymphs will immediately begin feeding, voraciously, upon a variety of plant material. Occasionally, they'll also eat invertebrates, or if under stress of overcrowding, each other. In time, they seek out or enlarge cavities - as little caves - under stones, boards or debris. Sometimes they'll enlarge the mouths of abandoned insect or worm burrows.

The crickets pass through a series of moults, each time splitting and shedding their rigid outer skin (which acts as a skeleton) to reveal a new larger one beneath.

Because they're so efficient at converting huge quantities of plant material into crickets, and so effective at hiding and moving quickly to escape through meadow's lattice, vast numbers make it to the final moult, which gives us our thousands - millions - of troubadours about this time each fall.

Crickets are among the many, highly beneficial insects that help convert plant material back into soil nutrients, at the same time, providing food for a host of other animals. Our native crickets are harmless, and fascinating indeed.

Why not renew an acquaintance, forgotten since childhood? It's as easy as looking under a board. Or, listening to the chorus this evening.

Did you know ... that our office offers a brief guide to Consumer and Corporate Affairs Canada?

Few other federal departments have such an important influence on the lives of Canadians. In fact, there isn't a person in Canada who hasn't in one way or another benefitted from the work they do. For example, Consumer and Corporate Affairs make sure a lot of the goods we buy are measured accurately, whether it's food, gas, electricity or home heating oil.

They test products such as toys, cribs and playpens to ensure they're safe, along with setting flammability standards for mattresses and children's sleepwear, and warn or even ban certain potentially hazardous products.

They look after your interests when it comes to labels, and guarantee you're treated fairly and honestly in the marketplace.

If you would like to know more about Consumer & Corporate Affairs Canada, why not drop in to your County Information Centre and pick up some copies of our pamphlets regarding this and many other subjects. Our office is open from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. weekdays, and we are located in the Drag River municipal building in Haliburton.

193 riders take part in international meet the trails will be tough because of all the rain we've had."

The co-ordinator and "coach" of the Rockcliffe Can Am teams was Steve Brand, the district sales representative for Bombardier, the company that manufactures Can Am motorcycles.

Before the race Steve said he would not be trying to win his class but would "Just be cruising. I'm just interested in getting my finisher's badge," he said, adding this would be the sixth Corduroy Enduro he has entered.

Among the other members of the Rockcliffe team was Jeff Smith of Duluth, Minnesota, winner of the Corduroy in 1973 and Blair Sharpless of Toronto who was the top overall rider in 1983 and 1984.

Dominance ends

While British motorcycles dominated enduro events until the 1960's Triumphs and BSA's have fallen by the wayside as Husqvarnas from Sweden, Kawasakis, Yamahas and Hondas from Japan, KTM's from Austria and Can Am's manufactured in Canada have become the most popular enduro machines.

The bikes are equipped with knobby tires to increase traction, high rise exhaust systems, large rear sprockets to increase power at low speeds, heavy duty suspensions and long front forks that increase ground clearance and help absorb the bumps.

The most important piece of equipment for the enduro riders is a waterproof case containing a route sheet and a clock that is fastened to the handlebars. The route sheet lists the arrival times and mileage of each checkpoint.

By keeping a close watch on the time and odometer readings, the competitors try to arrive at the checkpoints at precisely the right time.

Until 1979 the Corduroy was governed by the rules of the Federation of International Motorcyclists which allowed competitors to arrive early at each checkpoint but the rules have since been changed to reduce speeds. Under the Canadian Motorcycle Association rules drivers are penalized 2 points if they arrive a minute early, 5 points for each minute before that and are disqualified if they arrive at any checkpoint 15 minutes ahead of time.

Late arrivals are penalized one point for each minute and are disqualified if they arrive an hour late at a checkpoint.

As Brent Davies, one of the Corduroy organizers, pointed out, "This is not a race. It is more like a car rally. You lose more points if you arrive early than if you arrive late."

Saturday start

On Saturday at noon after making last minute adjustments and donning protective equipment: helmets, motocross boots, and chest, shoulder and elbow protectors that resemble plastic body armour, the riders set out at one minute intervals in groups of three from the starting line at Chateau Woodland.

They drove south along County Road One, then along backroads and bush trails across the Burnt River, past Gelert through marshland near South Lake, around Denna Lake and arrived at the first gas stop near Kinmount.

The recently completed trail near South Lake proved to be the most difficult section of the route as rider after rider bogged down in the mud and deep water. Nearly half the field was disqualified or chose to drop out at the first gas stop.

Paul Prentice decided that after three hours of hard driving he had done enough damage to his back, and chose to call it a day. In spite of the fact that he was in pain, Paul considered the experience worthwhile. His teammate John Martin also dropped out after spraining his thumb. Although he could have continued, he was concerned that he would only aggravate the injury and he wanted to be in top physical condition when he competes in the upcoming International Six Day

Trials in Spain as a member of Team USA.

Following the first gas stop the riders followed a route past Irondale along the Miserable Lake trail, across the Burnt River, then north to the finish at Chateau Woodland. Less than half the starting field were able to complete the 190 km. run.

Sunday morning at 8 a.m. the bone weary riders set out again on the second leg.

Steady rainfall

A steady rain had replaced the hot humid conditions of Saturday and although the riders found the temperature more comfortable, the rain made the trails even more treacherous than they had been on Saturday. Ninety riders were still in contention on Sunday, including Murray Beetlestone, Steve Brand, Dave Dodd and Blair Sharpless. Ted Wilkins and Bob Marsh had been disqualified on Saturday.

The route took the competitors through the Tory Hill area to Bill's Hills near Wilberforce where drivers competed in a special section on the motocross track. Blair Sharpless, who was one of the leaders of the Corduroy at that point won the speed test in the special section.

After leaving Wilberforce, the drivers drove west on a route that included the Devil's Staircase east of the Harburn Road. After bypassing Minden, the route followed the Bobcaygeon Road to the Brady Lake area.

At that point the organizers decided to end the race. The original route included the Nesbitt Trail through Anson Township, however high water levels and poor trail conditions forced the cancellation of that section.

After the 130 km. ride on Sunday, less than sixty riders pulled into the final checkpoint.

Throughout the two day event, officials at each checkpoint relayed the riders' times to the headquarters at Chateau Woodland by radio. The information was recorded by computer and by 5 p.m. Sunday the final results were posted.

Murray Beetlestone surprised a lot of veteran riders by capturing first place in the junior open class and third overall in the junior event. (The classes are based on previous wins in motocross competitions and the engine displacements of the motorcycles.)

Dave Dodd also fared well, winning the first place trophy in the Expert Light class.

Steve Brand accomplished what he had set out to do by finishing the gruelling event in spite of a hyperextension of his knee.

After being in the lead for most of the enduro, Blair Sharpless was delayed when his engine was filled with water at a river crossing but he was able to start his machine again and eventually finished in sixth place in the Masters class.

Brian Mull of Concord, Michigan won the premier award as the top overall finisher and along with his teammates, Craig Kennedy of Aylmer, Ontario, and Frank Sutton of London, captured the team event on Husqvarnas.

The Rockcliffe "C" team, Verne Luckae of Pickering, Gary Klassen of St. Catharines and Jim Hamilton of Barrie captured second place for Can Am in the team event.

After weeks of preparation the riders nervously await the starter's signal to begin the Enduro.

Kitty Wells still Queen of country

At an age when most people are beginning to enjoy their retirement, Kitty Wells, the Queen of Country Music, continues performing at county fairs, and in clubs and community centres across Canada and the United States.

Kitty soared to the top of the country music charts in 1952 with her single "Honky Tonk Angels", becoming the first woman country artist to sell over a million copies.

Since then she has recorded 23 number one singles and, in recognition of her accomplishments, was named to the Country Music Hall of Fame in 1976. In 1937 Kitty married Johnny Wright who went on to make his own mark in the music industry in the Johnny and Jack Duo, with such hits as "Don't Let The Stars Get In Your Eyes" and "Stop The World, I Want To Get Off".

After Jack Anglin was killed in an automobile accident while returning from Patsy Cline's funeral, Johnny began recording and touring with Kitty.

The veteran performers were joined on tours by their son Bobby who had established his own reputation as a recording artist and actor.

On Friday evening, the Wright family and the Tennessee Mountain Boys, the backup group that includes two of Kitty's grandchildren, performed in front of over 500 faithful fans at Minden arena.

In spite of the late arrival of the private bus the family uses on their cross country tours, the show began with only a slight delay and the fans got their money's worth.

After a few opening numbers by the accomplished musicians that make up the Tennessee Mountain Boys, Bobby Wright warmed up the audience with a selection of his past hits and a liberal sprinkling of jokes and imitations.

Half way through the first set Kitty made her appearance in a long, flowing, burgundy dress. Accompanying herself on guitar she stood in the glare of the spotlight and sang over a half dozen tunes that have become classics over the past 30 years.

The "Queen" was in fine voice as she sang of love, marriage, heartbreak, loneliness and tragedy, all the ingredients that make country music unique. The light reflected off her guitar swept the crowd, lighting up the faces of people who have shared her triumphs and losses throughout her long career.

Many of these fans, now grandparents themselves, were attending Friday night's performance with their children and grandchildren in keeping with the family theme of the show.

Following Kitty's solo set, Johnny Wright took to the stage, resplendent in a tan cowboy hat and purple suit, and set toes tapping and hands clapping with a rousing set of old favourites.

A quiet spoken gentleman off stage, Johnny comes alive under the lights, entertaining his audience with his up tempo hits, step dancing and humorous anecdotes. After the family joined in a selection of Gospel tunes to end the first set, the audience was invited to the front of the stage for an autograph session.

For over half an hour the stars of the show and the band members signed photographs and albums.

Before the second set began, Kitty drew the winning ticket in the Minden Lions Club draw. Roy Sawyer of Minden was the winner of a trip for two to Nashville, Tennessee.

The second half of the

show again featured each family member in turn performing familiar tunes that have been favourites of country music fans from the 1940's to the present. After the solo sets the family teamed up for a rollicking version of "I Saw The Light" to end the show.

As the sound and lighting equipment was being dismantled and loaded on the bus, Kitty and Johnny graciously signed programs and albums, then after a brief stop at the Dominion Hotel, the entertainers set out for their next date in Smith Falls, leaving a lot of satisfied fans behind.

Spot the Shot

One normally expects things to taper off just a bit as the summer season comes to an end in the Highlands. While this has been the case in most areas, we were surprised by the avalanche that flowed in for Spot the Shot contest number 9. Perhaps because it was a well recognized span, or that it is strategically placed between Minden and Haliburton, and therefore familiar to many people, that we received so many entries for our ninth contest. Thank you for your response. Now, before we get to the answer and winner, one entrant asked what the bell hanging in the upper right hand corner was for. Proving that the Spot the Spot the Shot contest can both be educational and fun, we provide the following bit of information. The red and white bell shaped cones were installed, at this location, several years ago by Ontario Hydro. Their purpose is to draw the overhead wires to the attention of those in command of sailboats. The utility's public safety program includes this sort of cautionary devices as well as publicity through advertisements and public education programs which will hopefully have sailors keep a sharp eye out for overhead electrical wires, even where the cones have not been installed. The cone also provided a bit of clue for some of our sharp eyed readers. It eliminated other bridges of similar construction, but without the cones overhead, and allowed them to narrow their choice down to the bridge at Allsaw on Highway 121, spanning the narrows between Lake Kashagawigamog and Soyers Lake. And now, for the winner of this week's contest. The $25 gift certificate goes out to Moira Arnot of Haliburton and Toronto. Congratulations to her and everyone else who overwhelmed us with the scads of mail. Don't forget, Contest number 10 is still open and we'll accept entries until September 16 with the winner being announced in next week's newspaper. And now, we leave the final word to the Byway Bard:

Well, summer is over, the contest's been fun
But I'm kinda glad it's nearly done
Writing these poems takes a little time,
(Especially when the words won't rhyme!)
But this photo was easy. A piece of cake

Nominees sought

by Donna Bailey

The nominating committee of the Haliburton County Home Support Services has been working very hard to find Executive and Board of Directors for our new year, commencing September 20. Many of the nominees are people who have been faithful for many years and bring their expertise to us once again. Some are new comers who are interested in getting more involved with Home Support. Each share the love of people and the desire to reach out to help our seniors and disabled persons to remain in their homes. Together we will maintain this.

Please join us at our annual meeting to meet the nominees elect and our future executive and board of directors on Friday, September 20 at the Haliburton Legion. It will commence with a turkey dinner provided by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Legion at a cost of $5.00 per person.

Dinner reservations are required by September 13. Please call 457-2941 to have your name put on our list. Our guest speaker will be Marlene Edwards, Director of Homecare for Haliburton, Victoria, Pine Ridge.

The dinner will be served at 12 noon. Our meeting will start at approximately 1:30. Plan to attend and bring a friend. Everyone is welcome.

Trent-Severn water levels

On September 3, the stored water on Haliburton lakes stood at 61.2% which was again above the 10-year average by about 1.5%. The flow being discharged is still only a little more than minimum from these lakes while there has been no pressing demand due to heavy rains in the Kawartha area.

These rains, often heavier in the area south of the Haliburton Highlands, has resulted in overfilled conditions on the Kawartha Lakes. The outflow has been increased considerably to reduce the surplus which could threaten shoreline areas, the safety of the boaters and construction activities. On Saturday, September 7, sections of the waterway had to be closed due to the hazardous currents. Large flows now should reduce the risks for the present and in future by getting us back to an under-filled situation within a couple of weeks. Heavy, repeated rains could make this unattainable, however.

Shooters clinic

The Leslie M. Frost Natural Resources Centre (MNR) and the Ontario Federation of Anglers and Hunters plan to hold a two day big game hunters' field day at the Frost Centre south of Dorset on September 28 and 29, 1985. The main attraction to big game hunters is the opportunity to use the running moose target to assess and practice their marksmanship. In addition, there will be continuous showings of the film, "Of Moose and Men", a new MNR film which teaches moose sex and age identification. The Hunter Training Trail at the Frost Centre will be open for guided walks and an excellent hunter safety film, "Firearms, Safety and the Hunter" will also be shown. Time allows for approximately 50 shooters each day. Those wishing to shoot should phone the L.M. Frost Natural Resources Centre (705-766-2451 during regular office hours) prior to September 20 and reserve a shooting time.

Dixie Lee topples Huntsville

by Jim Milne

The Dixie Lee soccer team finished their season in the Muskoka District Soccer Association as they began it, with a win. Huntsville needed this win to clinch first place but they fell 2-1 to the Haliburton team. Dixie Lee have re-inforced their reputation as Huntsville's bugbear since they first defeated Huntsville in a quarter final game two years ago.

The future also looks bright for the High School Seniors as they aim to win in their region for the third year in a row.

Dixie Lee used 8 high school players to replace others who returned to college. Darryl Goodall, the goalie, is untested at the high school senior level of competition. He gained valuable experience playing against a team which two weeks earlier won the Muskoka Playoff Cup. He looked like he belonged in the league coming off his line and calling for the ball to help his defence.

Dixie Lee again used four fullbacks including two of the fast young players. Later in the game they assigned an additional forward to move back and mark Huntsville's playmaker exclusively. This foiled their comeback effort.

Dixie Lee scored first. Midway through the half Lennie Johnston converted a low cross from Hans Walter with a sliding tackle which put the ball in by the far post.

Later Goodall preserved the lead by saving a penalty shot. Huntsville tied the score when their skillful striker number 7, eluded the marking of two defenders to put a low shot in to the left of the goalie.

Finally, Jeff Barry forced the Huntsville goalie to make a disastrous mistake. Coming out beyond the penalty box to clear the ball he hit his own defender close by with the ball. It rebounded directly into his net.

The Dixie Lee team wish the High School Juniors and Seniors well in their season opener, Wednesday, September 11 in Haliburton. There will also be an exhibition game against the Seniors on Sunday, September 15 in Haliburton at 2:00 p.m. We hope to promote the aims of the Terry Fox run that same day so a collection will be made again this year at the game for the Cancer Fund.

Pair want input on fitness centre project

Two Minden residents who are seriously interested in opening a fitness centre and spa in the community, will be holding a public meeting this Thursday evening to gauge interest in the project.

Patti Prentice and Sharon Poldas have prepared a proposal which would see the installation of the facility in the new structure being erected on the former Welch property in the village's core. The structure, which is being funded through the county LEAD Corporation and the municipality, is proposed to house three retail outlets facing on to the Main Street, a second floor with offices, a second CHACE Place and day care centre on the second floor at the rear. The CHACE Place and day care centre would be serviced by access off Peck Street. The fitness centre could be located on either of the Main Street levels.

The fitness centre is one of a number of retail outlets under consideration for the new structure. The two proprietors of the centre are currently canvassing the community to determine the degree of interest in the centre and the type of programs individuals would like to see offered.

They propose to install a large exercise room, with showers and change rooms, saunas and other facilities. In a brochure outlining their plans, they have suggested specialty exercise programs could be held for such groups as: seniors; pre and post natal; noon hour classes; children's programs; employee fitness programs; among others. The two are seeking input from the public to determine which facilities are in demand, so they could tailor the centre to the community's requirements, and what programs individuals and groups would like to see held there.

The pair have been carrying out informal surveys throughout the community and hope the meeting this Thursday evening will draw enough interested persons to assist in mapping out a plan for the project.

The meeting is scheduled for the Minden municipal building at 7:30 p.m. Plans for the new building will be on display at that time as well.

Anyone interested in more information on the centre and its plans, should contact Patti Prentice at 286-2092 or Sharon Poldas at 286-2952.

MTC will chase NSF cheques

Ontario Transportation and Communications Minister Ed Fulton recently announced the start up of a computerized denial system to collect money owing on returned cheques for vehicle related fees and sales tax.

After August 1, 1985, any person or company owing outstanding monies to the ministry because of cheques which failed to clear the bank will be notified in writing that they cannot renew their vehicle licence until the money is paid. If payment is not made within 30 days, a penalty fee will be added.

"This program is an extension of the Vehicle Registration System introduced in 1982," said Fulton. "It will be followed by phase two of the denial system to provide for the collection of unpaid parking fines, in co-operation with the Ministry of the Attorney General."

Last year, MTC received some 8000 NSF cheques from the public amounting to approximately $700,000. This year, close to 4,000 have been received amounting to $400,000.

Fulton says he's concerned. "In the past, it's been difficult to collect this money because of the time effort and expense involved" he explained. "But we're confident this new collection system will eliminate that problem."

Branch 129 news

by Gerald Irish

There was a large number of interested Legion members and guests at the September general meeting. Much was accomplished. Six new members were initiated into Branch 129. As a result of this meeting you can expect to see redecorating and renovations continued in the club room.

Our visitors from England are here. Peter and Wenda Wilson arrived in Canada on Wednesday, September 4. We were pleased to see them, as guests, at our general meeting. Peter and Wenda will be visiting Ottawa, Niagara Falls and Midland during their stay with us. On Friday the 13th, the Wednesday night dart group will be hosting a "Meet our English visitors" wine and cheese party. Come out on Friday from 7 p.m. to 8 p.m. Enjoy the wine and cheese and meet Peter and Wenda. Mr. Joey Nicholson will be providing entertainment and music for dancing on this night. Saturday the 14th will see the very popular Earl Wilfong Trio entertaining in the club room from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Congratulations to 2nd Lieutenant Michael Wright who received his commission in June from the Royal Military College in Kingston. He is pursuing his military career at Portage La Prairie and Moose Jaw. Mike is the son of Don and Mary Wright of Lochlin. Comrade President Joan sent a message of congratulations to Michael on behalf of Branch 129.

Did you remember the Legion Cadets meeting? Mr. Krisjansen, General Manager of the Ontario Army Cadet League, will be the guest speaker and answer parents' and teens' questions about Cadets. This meeting will be Thursday, September 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Legion auditorium. We'll see you there.

Nine Branch 129 members attended various Zone seminars in Coboconk on Wednesday evening, September 4. They took part in seminars on poppy, youth education, sports, membership and public relations. All who attended the seminars gained in knowledge in each of these areas. The seminars were arranged by Comrade Zone Commander Mel Robertson. Thanks, Mel.

Legion Week begins this coming Sunday. Your Branch is starting it off on Sunday with a parade to the United Church in Haliburton. After services, members and guests will return to the Legion for the very impressive ceremony of the signing of the Legion Articles of Faith at 1 p.m. All Legion Zone and Branch Executives plus federal, county and municipal government officials and Presidents of various service clubs will sign these Articles. Children's games have been organized and will be supervised during the Legion Family Picnic in the ball park on Sunday afternoon. There will also be adult horseshoe tournaments, a beef barbecue and entertainment in the Legion. Come to these ceremonies and games. Join your Legion in getting Legion Week started in a great way.

ACCOUNTABILITY VS. CREDIBILITY

It started out as a kind of Trivial Pursuit, but now my notes for council meetings since January, 1983 indicate a total of forty-one admonishments for reporters to, "Put your pens down and keep this out of the paper." Discarding the times when such instructions were obviously concerned with corny comments meant to lighten up the proceedings a touch, a substantial number nevertheless were serious directions from the chair. Now our council is not unique in this respect. Many councils in the County employ such censorship directly, or arrange their agenda to eliminate public debate on selected issues, or both.

I think this has to do with some fairly normal and human reactions. By law, council can only act through resolutions voted on in accordance with accepted rules of procedure. Council as a whole is held accountable by the precise record of its actions in the Clerk's minutes. Individual members are therefore held accountable by their comments on those resolutions and the votes they cast. But because the discussion and even the vote in many cases is not recorded for the minutes, only spectators in the council chambers witness the actual words stated, the order and context of those statements, and the actual individual votes cast. Then too, because most meetings of council play only to the eyes and ears of newspaper reporters, the public accountability required of councillors relies almost solely upon the credibility of two weekly newspapers.

Most of the time news stories are very representative of the facts. But some few times they are not. Consider for example the past week's issues. The Echo's front page declared, "Fire Boat Idea Rejected", and goes on to say "Anson, Hindon and Minden council will not be buying a boat for the municipality's fire department despite a request from the Gull Lake Cottagers' Association." A confusing closing paragraph then states that council will be contacting provincial ministries to seek assistance for the purchase of an emergency craft. Now compare that to The Times' report of the same council event: "Island Residents Want Fire Boat Purchased.....The municipality of Anson, Hindon and Minden is seeking provincial support to purchase a boat for the municipal fire department." Finally, here is the actual council resolution upon which the stories are based: "Be it resolved Council will review the expenditures involved in a municipal emergency craft to service water access lots once information is received on possible Provincial assistance." Obviously The Times report is accurate. Some persons will read The Echo and not realize that council is in fact considering the purchase of a boat for fire department and other uses. According to the record, there never was a decision that "council will not be buying a boat".

There are as many "stories" about a council event as there are persons who witness and interpret it. Sloppy reporting can place councillors and their actions in quite different perspectives than the actual circumstances involved. After having to "put the record straight" for umpteen disgruntled ratepayers who read an inaccurate report, some elected officials find it easier just to be less candid, agree to meetings that are "closed", and issue occasional warnings to the press to stop writing.

In my view, despite a dread for "bad press" that we all can sympathize with, or editorials that characterize debate as indecisive, Reeves have a responsibility to conduct meetings of council that reflect the best intentions of our British parliamentary heritage. They should not resort to censorship or "closed" meetings that stretch the interpretation of The Municipal Act's allowance for them. Today, public accountability and newspaper credibility go hand in hand. There are bound to be a few slip-ups on both sides but the risk of unmonitored government activity is much more serious than the inconvenience of a misleading news story. At least in this County we can check two papers out before totally believing all that we read.

Pre-conditioning increases value

- Ag report -

The demand for pre-conditioned calves at the 1984 Peterborough and Victoria Cattlemen's Pre-Conditioned Calf Sale in Lindsay was excellent. As a result, the Stocker Sale Committee would like to fill this year's sale being held on November 6th with pre-conditioned calves.

Last years' buyers paid a premium of 4¢/lb. for pre-conditioned steer calves and 8¢/lb. for pre-conditioned heifer calves. As a result, the local cow-calf producers who pre-condition their calves receive a definite financial advantage directly from the marketplace; those on the Red Meat Plan also receive a grant of $5 for pre-conditioned calves.

The pre-conditioned calves sold to feedlot operators in 1984 were checked later in the winter and it was found that the health and performance of these calves was excellent.

Because the 1984 pre-conditioned calf sale provided better returns to the cow-calf producers and better calves for the feedlot purchasers, we are encouraging all producers in the area who wish to improve the marketability of quality beef calves to consider pre-conditioning this fall.

Producers who are planning on pre-conditioning their calves need to start the process immediately. Consult your local veterinarian right away as he/she plays an important role in the pre-conditioning process. Details of the pre-conditioning program are available in an O.M.A.F. Factsheet from the County Agricultural Office, or from your veterinarian, or in one of the recent County Cattlemen's Newsletters. As soon as you know how many calves you will be pre-conditioning for the Cattlemen's sale, call a member of the Sale Committee to consign your calves - the deadline for consigning is October 1st.

The purpose of the pre-conditioning program is to reduce the stress experienced by the calves at sale time as much as possible and thus greatly improve the health of the calves following the sale. In addition, studies have proven that pre-conditioned calves will gain more weight in the month between weaning and the sale than calves which are nursing their mothers until sale time.

Pre-conditioned calves are dehorned, castrated and vaccinated; they are weaned for at least thirty days and they have become adapted to feed bunks and waterers. Producers participating in the pre-conditioning program work closely with their veterinarian and then the veterinarian applies a special green pre-conditioned tag to each calf and issues a veterinary certification which accompanies the calves through the sale.

The guidelines for the pre-conditioning program this year recommend that the calves be vaccinated at least three weeks prior to weaning to try to avoid any setbacks which could occur to the calves after vaccination. However, because this change has only just been announced, calves will be accepted for the Peterborough and Victoria Sale vaccinated under last year's guidelines, which permitted the vaccination to occur up to three weeks before the sale.

Bull test station

Plans have been finalized for two bull test stations to operate in the Kawartha Region again this winter. This will be the Woodville Bull Test Station at the farm of Rick Rickard. Bulls born between March 15 and May 31, 1985 and from free listed herds will be eligible at this station. Delivery date for this station is about mid-

November.

The second station will be the Peterborough Bull Test Station at the farm of Paul Walsh. Bulls born between February and April 30, 1985, will be eligible for this negative status station, and delivery date is tentatively the end of October.

Any cow-calf producer who has a top quality young bull which might make a suitable herd sire is encouraged to nominate the bull as soon as possible. Nomination forms are available at the agricultural office. More details on the operation of the Bull Test Station are available from the station operator, or from the agricultural office.

A hard man to keep down

Some people just weren't meant for retirement. John Pentney Sr., and his wife Minnie are two individuals whom one could easily place in that category.

Some four years after they turned over the operation of the Minden Home Hardware store to their son John Jr., they have opened another retail outlet in the community's core, a business that will keep them as busy, if not busier than they were prior to 1980.

Their new store, the Minden HomeAll Building Centre, is set for its grand opening this weekend. While all the festivities are slated for the last four days of this week, the store has been open and serving customers since early July.

John Sr. and his wife purchased the Minden Home Hardware store in 1970. They moved to this area after he managed a supermarket in Hamilton. After successfully running the hardware outlet for ten years, they turned the store over to their son John Jr., and looked forward to the relaxation and ease that people say is supposed to come with retirement.

As John Sr. explains, "We just couldn't sit still. We had to be doing something." That fact is borne out by the number of times John and his wife could be seen at the hardware store, filling in for John Jr. when he left on vacation or assisting during the busy summer months.

The Home Hardware chain of stores is one of the most successful outlets in Canada. Some 2000 dealer-owned stores stretch from coast to coast across the country. Not only do the dealers own their stores, but they also have an interest in the wholesale operation which supplies their stores.

Several years ago, the Home Hardware management team decided to expand into the lumber and building supply sector of the economy, resulting in a new chain of stores under the HomeAll name. In many cases the building supply outlets have become part of an existing hardware store while in other cases, they are separate operations. Such is the case here, however the two stores work close together.

John Sr. notes that the new business includes a partnership between himself and his two sons, John Jr. and David. David will eventually take over the HomeAll outlet, when John Sr. is ready to try retirement again.

"The HomeAll outlet, because of its size, is able to carry the products which John just wouldn't have room for in his present location," John Sr. explains. "This store will have building supplies, tools and equipment. Everything for the handyman to the professional builder. Between the two stores we should be able to supply just about anything in the building and hardware line," he adds.

The showroom at the front of the new structure, which faces onto Peck Street, has just over 2000 square feet while the warehouse covers 5700 square feet. Plans for an addition are already underway for the rear section of the building to accommodate a new plywood shed.

The manager of the new outlet is Bob Sisson, a Minden area native who managed the Peterborough Lumber store on Highway 35 for a number of years. When that store closed he moved to the Peterborough Cashway outlet. Bob is happy to be back in his hometown and has wasted little time in getting involved in the community once again. During this year's fall fair, he guided his team of horses to victory in the heavy horse pull.

My waning memory

Just a line to say I'm living, that I'm not among the dead
Yet I'm getting forgetful and mixed up in my head.
There are times I can't remember standing at the foot of stairs
If I must go up for something or I've just come down from there.
With the Frigidaire before me my poor mind is filled with doubt,
Have I just put food away, or have I come to take some out?
There are times when it's still dark, when I stand beside my bed,
I can't tell if I'm retiring or just getting up instead.
If it's my turn to write you, there's no need to get upset
When you're my age these things happen, it's so easy to forget.
But with mail time fast approaching, I will try to make it clear.
In this letter I am mailing: that I love you, precious dear
Yet the mail box stands before me and my face turns ruby red.
For I failed to mail your letter - I just opened it instead!

The September meeting of Minden Women's Institute will be held at the Library Cultural Centre in Minden at 2 p.m. They are asked not to forget the roll call when a hat made with kitchen items should be worn or pay a penalty. All newcomers are cordially invited to come out and join the ladies.

Once upon a time, there were four people named Everybody, Somebody, Anybody and Nobody.

There was an important job to be done and Everybody was sure that Somebody would do it. Anybody could have done it, but Nobody did it. Somebody got angry about that, because it was Everybody's job. Everybody thought Anybody could do it, but Nobody realised that Everybody didn't do it.

It ended by Everybody blaming Somebody when actually, Nobody could accuse Anybody.

The following poem was brought in by Cliff Lacey and we are sure he'd like to share it with all of you.

kid's korner

by Jean Lacey

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off in the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Q: When is a car not a car?

A: When it turns into a driveway.

Q: When is a boat like a pile of snow?

A: When it's adrift.

Q: When is a chair like a lady's dress?

A: When it's sat in (satin).

Q: How do you make a statue of an elephant?

A: You get a block of stone and cut away everything that doesn't look like an elephant.

Q: Why is a mousetrap like a cold?

A: Because they're both catching.

senior league

by Bert Harrison

Dear readers: I'm starting this letter on the 30th August day when our faithful entertainers came Grace Coburn to lead us in a sing-a-long and Florence Robinson the music to play, thank you for coming we would like to say. This being a long holiday weekend much activity here about, some coming to visit relatives others to take them out.

A tribute to Chantelle McKnight, where here she spent her summer holidays and a real good help to us in many different ways, she kept the bingo games going when the rest wanted to quit for the summer. Always looking for different ways to help one another, taking residents down to fun and fitness in their wheelchairs, staying to help with the exercises, while still here she rewrites my Senior League letter and does a good job too, many other good deeds she does, we are just naming a few. Now she must go back to school to learn some more of the golden rule. Please accept this gift from the residents here, when we must say good-bye to the one we hold most dear.

We watched interesting movies each afternoon to keep us well entertained until the long holiday is over, and life returns to normal again.

A real interesting service

again in the chapel Sunday night when the Burgesses and the Thompsons are there they seem to do the job just right.

Two of our waitresses have left us to get more education. Others have come to take their place, so much is happening here it is hard for me to keep pace. We welcome Marie Baker back from a two week vacation. Edna Cowan spent the weekend with her daughter over Lochlin way. We see Leslie and Nina Prentice visiting here, and others coming from far and near. Annie Cox is doing alright, some of her family come to visit her every day or night. Lily Hogg checks her weight on the scales most every day, she has gained quite a few pounds since she has come to live here, by the way.

Tuesday morning Rev. George Elliott of St. Paul's Anglican Church, Minden conducted a communion service in the chapel this 3rd September day, we thank him for coming and Fred Ballard for the music he did play.

Linda showed interesting movies Tuesday afternoon to all who came to see, "What Price Beauty?" and "Vinland Mystery" and "Discovery".

We welcome Jack Shaw back from a holiday, he said they had a real good time while they were away. We welcome Edith Welch back with us again from Peterborough hospital, what the trouble is seems to be a riddle.

The ladies of the Kinmount Legion came over to us this 5th September day, brought and served a real good lunch, we would like to have thanked you by playing some music for you but this we couldn't do, we had a resident's council meeting which we must attend, but we thank you for coming, please come back again.

We wish to thank you bingo callers who came back Thursday night to call the bingo numbers and do the job just right, Chantelle McKnight and helpers came to keep the game alive. Some players had real good luck, Edna Cowan said she won five.

God's Harvest

The time has come to harvest all

God's bounty over flowing

From every fertile plain
The haystacks are now ready

In rows the bundles stand
Awaiting farmers weapons

God bless this fruitful land.
